

tion (EAIE) in Glasgow, in mid-September. Laura continues to serve as chair of the EAIE's Publications Committee, and is now involved with the EAIE Knowledge Development Task Force. CIHE doctoral graduate assistant Ariane de Gayardon published an essay, under the title "The international student fee question in France," in the EAIE's 2015 "Conference Conversation Starter" publication, A Wealth of Nations.

September 29-October 1, 2015, the Center hosted Andrés Bernasconi and Daniela Véliz, director and research associate, respectively, of the Center for Research on Educational Policy and Practice (CEPPE) of the Pontifical Catholic University of Chile (PUC). The main purpose of the visit was to discuss a project to be completed by CIHE and CEPPE focused on a comparative examination of internationalization in the Catholic higher education context, to be completed over the course of 2016/2017. This work is made possible by the Luksic Fund, which supports collaborative engagement between Boston College and the PUC.

Working with Reisberg & Associates and Unnivers, the Center hosted a day-long seminar at Boston College on October 6, 2015 for a group of some 50 deans and other university officials from the University of Guadalajara. The main focus of the event was internationalization of higher education and its implications for this Mexican institution.

October 28-30, 2015, director Hans de Wit and doctoral graduate assistant Ariane de Gayardon attended the 2015 annual conference of the International Association of Universities (IAU), where Hans served as chair/moderator of a plenary session. They also participated prior to the conference in the Research Seminar of the Centre for Higher Education Internationalisation (CHEI), with Hans de Wit as co-facilitator and presenter, and Ariane giving a presentation on her doctoral research.

On October 28, 2015 Laura Rumbley presented at a meeting of the Washington International Education Group, which featured the launch of a new publication—Internationalizing Higher Education Worldwide: National Policies and Programs—jointly produced by the American Council on Education's Center for Internationalization and Global Engagement and CIHE. This report is available on the ACE website: www.acenet.edu/cige. Work is also underway on the sixth installment of the ACE-CIHE series, International Briefs for Higher Education Leaders, under the title "Engaging with Europe: Enduring Ties, New Opportunities."

November 24-27, 2015, Hans de Wit delivered a keynote address at the annual international conference of ANUIES (Asociación Nacional de Universidades e Instituciones de Educación Superior) in Puebla, Mexico. Hans also delivered a workshop and presented on a panel.

CIHE founding director Philip Altbach and doctoral research assistant Georgiana Mihut, along with Jamil Salmi, formerly of the World Bank, co-presented on the subject of "Sage advice: The role of international advisory councils in world-class universities" at the 6th International Conference on World-Class Universities, which took place in Shanghai on November 2-3. Altbach also attended a meeting of the Russian government's "5-100 University Excellence Committee," of which he is a member, in Vladivostok, Russia. Additionally, he spoke at the University of Hong Kong and Xiamen University in China.

The Center congratulates CIHE doctoral research assistant Georgiana Mihut on her recent "EMA Star Award," one of three such awards given out in 2015 by the Erasmus Mundus Student and Alumni Association (EMA). The award highlights the best contributions of members to EMA's development and promotion.
